"There is likewise a reward for faithful silence"

In silence and in service, Mr. Mahlon Moore held the trust of Midland Senior High School in his hands for 15 years. As a dedicated principal he not only presided over all school functions but took an active interest in every one. Now that he has been promoted to the office of Assistant Superintendent of Midland Public Schools, we know that he will continue to uphold the honor of the Midland School system.

Preface

Perhaps the one thing that students at Midland High School noticed most often during the school day was the clock. Our whole day was governed and regulated by the springs, hands, and bells of this piece of mechanical genius. It seemed natural, then, since time is so important in all events throughout our lives, that we incorporate the clock as a symbol of our school life and the theme of our yearbook.

In Memory

One of the sadder memories of the 1960 school year was the passing away of Mr. Wight. We will long remember the many services he performed for the Midland Public Schools in his years as an industrial arts and driver training instructor.

A familiar scene around MHS was the arrival and departure of the students.

Eight o'clock was a fateful hour as students returned to school in September, 1960.

Busy days were ahead for MHS students

This ingenious art design, created by Mr. Breed, welcomed the students back to the halls of Midland Senior High.

New school, new teachers, new schedules, and busy days were in order for the new sophomores.

Student activities were many and varied

With homecoming activities came the voting for the selection of the queen.

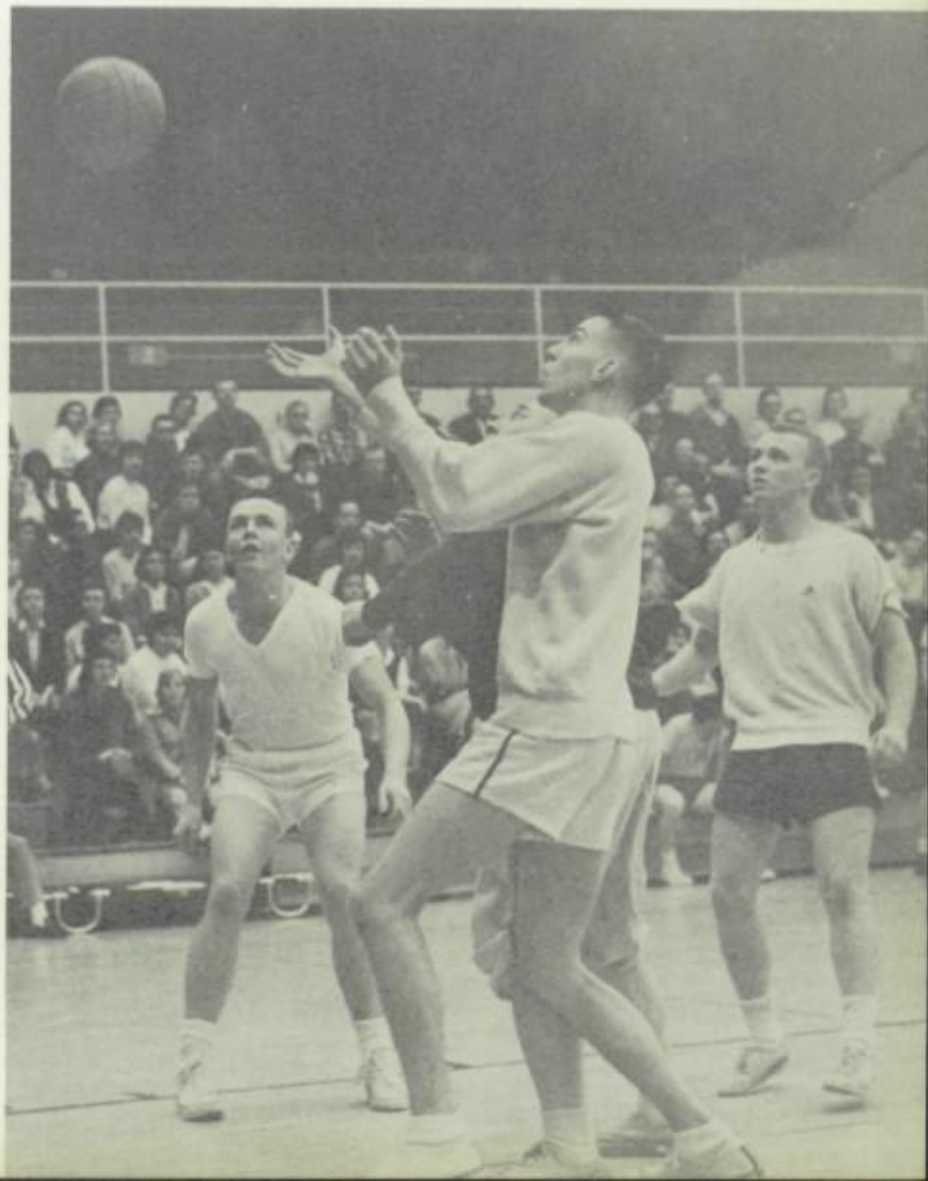

These sleepy dogs were prizes for the Student Council's magazine drive.

Candy sales were always popular with MHS students, and they gave the clubs a chance to supplement their funds.

Many students assembled to see their hapless Varsity Club downed by the sparkling faculty at the Varsity vs Faculty game.

The Physics Department performed
many interesting experiments.

Familiar to many a student was the long wait in the cafeteria lunchline.

Stand back - - lunchtime M. H. S.

A hurried bite to eat and it was off to class again.

For someone, there was always left the job of cleaning up.

Cafeteria Help served many delicious meals to the students.

Exchange Students Were Again Welcomed at M H S

Left to right: Hartmute Trepper, Hans-Achim Roll, Heidimarie Goetz, John Birch.

Our 1959-60 foreign exchange students have added much to the intellectual and social atmosphere of Midland High School. Their coming enlightened our year, and their going touched the hearts of many.

We hope they realize that they will never be forgotten by their friends and associates in the United States.

Queen Susie Homecoming

R. W. Caldwell crowned Susie during the half time performance.

The Queen's court included Sr. Rep., Jan Weymouth; Soph. Rep., Sue Bloor; Queen, Susie Greenhoe; Jr. Rep., Lyle MacDonald.

Reigned Over Activities

Our cheerleaders, along with "Big Vic," played an important part at the homecoming game.

A new feature of the 1960 Pontiac was Queen Susie.

A typical scene before the homecoming parade was the construction of the floats. Pictured are Susie Osborn and Pam Kauer working on the Latin Guild float.

The Dramatics Club portrayal of Rip Van Winkle won first place.

G.A.A.—Three Men in a Tub

F.F.A.—Jack and the Beanstalk

Jr. Class—Winken, Blinken, and Nod

Pep Club—Humpty Dumpty

Little Miss Muffet on her tuffet won third prize for the Sophomore class.

Second place was given to the Co-op Club's Old Woman in the Shoe.

Sleeping Beauty was portrayed by the Choir Club.

The Ja-Oui-Si Club float depicted The Wizard of Oz.

The Senior Class float carried Little Black Sambo played by Mike Miller.

Denny Bessenecker and Helen Sjolander rode on the Latin Guild float as Hansel and Gretel.

The FTA's float was A Dillar-A-Dollar.

Old King Cole was presented by the Orchestra Club.

Seniors Participated In Traditional Activities

As a member of the stage crew, Ted Cizek did his part to make the Senior Class Play a success.

After school hours, John Dixon and Linda Ketels were found diligently rehearsing their lines for the Senior Class Play, The Barretts of Wimpole Street.

On Government Day, seniors from Midland and Coleman discussed the questions to present to the resource people.

Margaret Peters and Kay Kuick Headed The List

The name of Margaret Peters, valedictorian of Midland High School, will be resounding throughout our corridors and classrooms long after she has left us. Her cheery smile and bouncy step will be remembered by many. We know that her enthusiasm for all things, scholastic, musical, and otherwise, will lead her to a satisfying life in whatever field she enters.

The salutatorian of Midland High School, Kay Kuick, is planning a very worthwhile career of social work. She will attend the University of Michigan, and we know that with her high scholastic average and her wonderful personality, she will continue to be an excellent student and a person whom everyone enjoys knowing.

Terri found time, among her various school activities, to become one of the 'Midland High School majorettes.

In past years the dedication of the senior section of the CHEMIC has been intended for those who have been unable, through illness, to graduate with their class. This year the seniors of the Class of 1960 feel very fortunate to be able to dedicate their section to Terri Linn Fry who, after a serious illness, has been able to return to school and participate in the activities of her class. We take this opportunity to tell Terri how happy we are to have her back and to offer her our best wishes for happiness and success in the future.

Terri smiled as she enjoyed the many cards and presents sent to her by her friends at MHS.

SWANSON'S FOOD MARKET

In SWANSON'S FOOD MARKET only the finest meat products are sold. John Savage realized this when Mr. Swanson showed him the types of meats from which to choose.

Finally . . . now for the cleanup job

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to all of the people responsible for making this 1960 CHEMIC a success. Among these were: Margaret Hill who did all of the art work in the book, Mr. Chester Coanes whose pictures will help us to relive the events of this year, Miss Loomis who gave her time and encouragement freely, and Mrs. Miller whose experience greatly contributed to the contents of the book.
